50TH ANNIVERSARY BATTLE

APPROVED AT A REPRESENTATIVE TOWN MEETING.

Committee of Seven Appointed to Take up Matter of the Celebration.

A representative town meeting of about 150 citizens gathered in the court house on last Friday evening. Dr. J. A. Singmaster, chairman of the committee on arrangements, called the meeting to order and stated that the purpose of the meeting was to have the town take the initiative in securing a proper celebration of the 50th anniversary of the battle.

Dr. J. A. Singmaster was elected President of the meeting and P. K. Bickle, Secretary.

Dr. Singmaster then made an excellent address, which could have been heard profitably by every citizen of the town. Among other things he said that he believed that our fathers who lived through the eventful days of the battle scarcely realized then the greatness of those days. That it was even a question whether the present generation realized the meaning of that great event, nearness preventing a correct perspective thereof. That there were many reasons and motives for a fitting celebration of the battle, but added that the commercial reason, the benefit it would be to the community, was not one of the motives that should urge the commemoration and that it should not be celebrated as a matter of mere local pride, for the event belonged to the nation and not the community.

The reasons that called for a fitting celebration were indicated as follows: It should be a celebration out of gratitude to Almighty God, who was on the side of the army most nearly in the right. It should be celebrated out of gratitude to the noble, heroic men who gave their lives here for a new baptism of liberty. It was worthy of celebration by reason of its own value as one of the greatest battles of the world. In the whole Revolutionary War only one-half the number of men fell in defense of the country as fell at Gettysburg. It should be celebrated for what it decided; for the grave issues involving the nation which were settled here. It was at the battle of Gettysburg that the Declaration of Independence was given its greatest significance.

How should the 50th anniversary be celebrated was the next question. It must be more than a local event, for it was not a battle for Gettysburg, but for the whole nation. We are too small and weak to measure up to what the celebration ought to be. It should enlist the help of the great commonwealth and all of the other States and of the National Government. There were those who feared we might be a little immodest in starting such an event, but it was most fitting that public sentiment should crystallize here toward the celebration. Dr. Singmaster declared the movement had not been started one day ahead of the proper time. Legislatures and Congress only meet periodically and it will need time to reach all these factors. Our Commonwealth has appropriated a large sum for a soldiers' memorial and it is probable that when that memorial is finished, the celebration will be here. The great Lincoln Boulevard I'm confident, ought to be built and that the finishing of the great road may be synchronous with the time of the celebration and that these three great events may come at one time.

Judge Swope in addressing the meeting said he most heartily concurred in what Dr. Singmaster had well said. This is an age of gratitude and celebration, gratefully recalling and fittingly celebrating the great deeds of the past and encourages all to accomplish what is great and good and noble in private and public life. The patriotism of the suggestion of a celebration ought not to be questioned because it comes from the town. Governor Stone had said on an occasion, in this place, that the greatest triumph of the 19th century was the preservation of the Union at Gettysburg. It was the greatest battle of the ages in history and results. The heroism and sacrifices should never be forgotten. The celebration is not to be in any sense a social one but one in which every American could join as the result of the battle was to assure to every one of the Union, a united, prosperous, powerful nation, the common heritage of all.

Judge Swope recalled the fact that he was thirteen years old at the time of the battle, that he was riding a horse of Buford's cavalry to Rock Creek in company with Crist Metz and George Ziegler when the first gun was fired, that he had been a member of the Battlefield Memorial Association, that he had noted the beautiful roads the Park Commissioners had placed upon the field and felt a personal interest in furthering the proposed celebration.

Hon. D. P. McPherson moved that a committee of seven be appointed with the President as Chairman, to take up the matter of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the battle with Governor Stuart, with the view of securing the co-operation of the State in the event. Without further discussion the motion was unanimously adopted.

Dr. J. A. Singmaster appointed the following committee: Judge S. McC. Swope, Hon. D. P. McPherson, Hon. W. T. Ziegler, Hon. Theo. McAllister, Hon.

M. A. Garvin, Wm. Arch. McClean and M. M. Wolf.

The town meeting then adjourned. Immediately afterwards the committee met and it was agreed that Dr. Singmaster should communicate at once with Governor Stuart, asking for an audience next week, or as early as possible.

The plan of a celebration as far as any plan can now be formulated would be to have Governor Stuart in his message to the next Legislature recommend an act providing for a commission to have charge of the celebration. Such commission, appointed by the Governor, would plan the event and communicate with all the governors of all the states in the Union, asking co-operation and with the Federal Government. The great veteran associations would be invited to hold their national conventions here at the time.

That the event would be a national event is assured already at the reception the suggestion has received. Dr. Singmaster stated he had already received two communications, one from the North and the other from the South, both giving assurances of hearty co-operation in the celebration.

THE HARVEST OF DEATH

A YOUNG MOTHER ANSWERS THE SUMMONS.

A Well Known Hunterstown Citizen Expires on Returning Home From a Sale.

Mrs. Mary Caroline Rice, wife of Dr. A. Curtis Rice, died last Friday morning after a two weeks' illness, at her home in McSherrystown. The last day of her life was the anniversary of her birth, 35 years ago. The sudden and untimely death of Mrs. Rice has cast a gloom over McSherrystown, as she was well known to a large circle of friends. The gloom is darkest, however, in her own home, where to mourn her death are her husband and seven children, the youngest an infant whose birth foreshadowed the young mother's death. A NEW BANK BUILDING

HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED BY GETTYSBURG NATIONAL BANK.

It Will Occupy Present Location and Devoted Entirely to Banking Purposes.

The Directors of the Gettysburg National Bank at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon of last week decided upon the erection of a new banking building at the present location and appointed Wm. McSherry, Esq., Hon. D. P. McPherson and Dr. Walter H. O'Neal as a committee to have charge of the preparation of plans for the new building.

It was decided that the new building should be a one story structure and occupy the ground now covered by the bank building and the dwelling house lately used by the cashier. It is proposed that the building will be devoted entirely to the bank business and will be placed on the ground so as to have a free space entirely around the building.

That the building will be a handsome and beautiful addition to the town goes with the saying. A mortgage that stands in favor with the Board of Directors is one similar to the Bank of North America in Philadelphia, a building of the same character in the history, time and cost of a building. The building, though a single story, will be a very high building, and will be made light and roomy, and fitted up with every convenience to be found in a modern banking institution.

The committee have started the work of planning, designing and plans. It will be a matter of weeks before the same can be submitted and accepted and it is not likely that the new structure will be begun until next year.

ELECT A CONGRESSMAN IS THE WORD SENT BY BRYAN TO THE DEMOCRATS.

In York and Adams Counties—
He Want's the Support of This District.

"Impress upon your people the imperative necessity of electing a congressman from your district. Tell them when they vote for Bryan and Kern they should vote for the Democratic candidate for congress. Tell them they must elect a Democratic congressman from the York-Adams district."

These were Mr. Bryan's own words to the York Democrats who visited him on the occasion of his address at the great mass meeting in Baltimore, and they should be heeded by every Democrat in the district.

Every indication points to the success of the Democratic National ticket, and it would be folly, while electing Bryan, yet at the same time to elect a Congress hostile to him, a Congress which under the influence of a partisan leadership would be certain to thwart and baffle him on every possible occasion. To elect Mr. Bryan and at the same time to elect a Congress pledged to support him is the only way in which to perpetuate the policy of the Government as now carried on.

Mr. Bryan has made it very clear what he expects of this district in this respect. Congressional aid is absolutely necessary to him. It is in the power of the Democracy of York and Adams counties to give him one of these congressmen.

No one who sympathizes with Mr. Bryan and the cause for which he stands can afford to cut the congressional end of the ticket.

It is possible to elect Hon. E. D. Ziegler to congress, and that is what must be done. This is the only way in which the Democrats of this region may have a part in the great work of reform laid out by the Democracy of the nation.

Mr. Ziegler stands for those things for which Bryan stands. A vote more or less for Bryan in Pennsylvania does not count for much, though it would be a matter for just pride to show a large plurality for him in York and Adams counties. But there are enough Democrats in the district to elect Mr. Ziegler, and his election will be something practical done for the cause of Democracy.—York Gazette.

Bryan on The Farmer.

"Read the roll of United States Senators and you will find but two farmers among them. Run down the list of Congressmen and you will find but very few farmers among them. Considering the people engaged in farming, the farmer has very inadequate representation in the National Congress. And what is the result? The result is that the farmer has been neglected more than any other man and his interest disregarded more than the interest of any other class, and with this larger training of our farmer boys and farmer girls. I expect to see the farmer associate himself more and secure a larger representation in the making of our laws and the shaping of the nation's policies.

"The discrimination that has been going on against the farmer has tended to drive the people from the farms to the town, and I believe that that symptom is dangerous. I am not going to dwell at length upon this discrimination: I am going to simply point out two or three ways in which it manifests itself. Our Federal taxation is almost all collected through methods that bear upon consumption, and when we tax consumption, instead of possession, we make the poor man pay more than his share and the rich man less than his share, and there has heretofore been a constant drain of the farms in the matter of collecting taxes, and when the taxes are appropriated and expended the money is nearly all spent in the cities and very little of it upon the farms.

"The farmer, therefore has not only suffered in paying more than his share to the tax collector, but he has been the least benefited directly by the expenditure of the money that is raised. Read the amount spent on ships and then figure, if you can, what portion of that gets to the farmer. Take up the other large appropriations, and, with the exception of pensions, I do not know of any large appropriation in which the farmer has anything like his share in proportion to his number. There have been some of the methods of discrimination.

"I believe that with more farmers in the councils of the nation, more farmers prepared to exert an influence upon public thought through the pen and pencil and by the tongue, that we shall have a change and that that change will help to retard, if not to stop, the tendency now to go from the farm to the town.

Samose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Thin People Fat.

If you are thin your health is not what it should be. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that should be attended to at once. You cannot be healthy and strong if you are thin.

This makes the thin and scrawny, plump and robust; it mixes with the food so that all of the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle and good flesh are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

Samose is not a drug or a stimulant; it is a scientific flesh forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

There are thousands of unhappy, nervous thin people who would look and feel entirely different if they were only fat and plump. Let them use Samose and they will soon notice remarkable results.

These statements are confirmed by L. M. Buehler's offer to refund the money to anyone buying and using Samose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all his. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at Druggist Buehler's store, with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nothing.

THE LINCOLN ROADWAY

Westminster Committee Goes Over
Proposed Route.

The Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Westminster have taken up the work of leaving nothing undone in advocating the building of the Lincoln Roadway. Recently a committee of twelve men went over the proposed route, traveling by auto from Westminster to Washington. It was noted that the road was in practically an air-line, with no sharp bends and a minimum number of slight curves from this city to Brookville to give the road an easy grade. It was also noted that along almost the entire line they followed the wires of the Postal Telegraph Company, which runs from Harrisburg, Pa., to Washington and naturally seek the shortest distance between two points.

That good, road-making material is at hand, ready for use, along the entire length of the route was apparent along every mile. Along the first few miles there is abundance of limestone and flinty rock not far to the west and easily accessible. From the vicinity of Morgan run, on into and through Howard county, there is on every hand constant outcroppings of granite rock, massive boulders of many tons weight projecting far above the earth, indicating the presence of great rock formations, sufficient for the constructing of the boulevard not only along this part of the route, but for its entire length, if needed.

That which calls forth most comment was the diversified country through which the trip was made. Passing through the fertile field of old Carroll, well-cultivated farms, with evidences of thrift and prosperity on every side, through the gently-rolling, wooded hills of Howard, and on to the more lovely yet still elevated road through Montgomery county, reminding one of the farther Southland, the varied surroundings, with ever changing view, without monotony, bring new interest with every mile.

The diversity of scenery is accounted for by the fact that the route described along its entire length runs practically along the ridge which forms the watershed between the section made fertile by the streams that flow northward into the Patapsco river and those that flow southward into Potomac. The proposed route is therefore the natural and most feasible. Such a road as that which is contemplated should be constructed on such a ridge, with a view to ease of construction, to its future maintenance and to its scenic beauty. By no other route, either to the east or west of the meridian of Washington, is there another ridge of such length inviting the construction of the great way. On either side are deep gorges and from time to time the eye looks out on far distance, presenting vistas of rare beauty.

At intervals small streams cross the ridge through beautiful valleys, making possible beautiful viaducts and bridges for scenic effect.

It was the unanimous conclusion of the representatives of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association that nature has provided this attractive route, ready at hand, for the Lincoln Roadway and that it is not possible for any other route to combine so many natural advantages.

SLEEP OUTDOORS

Advice from the Mother of a Family.

Our family, consisting of my husband, who is a physician, myself and our two boys, five and three years old, respectively, have such a simple, inexpensive way of sleeping outdoors, that the impulse to tell about it is irresistible. Our bedroom, about 12x17, contains three beds, a large one and two cribs for the boys. It has an unusually large door opening on a wide porch and three windows, two of them also opening on the porches. The door is always wide open at night, so is one of the windows, sometimes two, sometimes all of them. The door, of course, is protected by a screen door. During the day, doors and windows are closed and register is opened and the beds and floor and walls thoroughly dried and warmed. A little before six, the children's bedtime, the register is closed and doors and windows are opened. We follow this program in all sorts of weather, and it seemed delicious to be awakened by a thunder-storm the other night, the rain coming down in torrents and we seemingly lying in the very midst of it, so comfortable and dry. When the children were small and would not stay covered, I made jackets for them out of old blankets to be worn over the night clothes, conning one or two, according to severity of weather and pinning blankets around their bodies.

If anyone doubts the efficacy of ventilating by means of the door, let one of his boys carelessly leave the door open while he is ensconced in his easy chair some cold wintry night enjoying his cigar and book. He will not stop to argue whether the air circulates at the top or the bottom. Of course there are some inconveniences. "Earth gets its price for what earth gives us" and air does too, I suppose. It is not pleasant to get up in a cold room like ours and supply the children with drinks, and our oldest boy, whose bed is nearest the door, complained one night that the snow flakes were falling on his face. But one learns not to mind such little things as that. Sometimes when the children have bad colds we do discuss the advisability of sleeping like other people—we talk of it during the day, but when night comes, we open the door as usual and the colds disappear rapidly in spite of or perhaps on account of the door. One night the baby woke up with a croupy cough. I heard my husband bend over the crib and listen and I was thoroughly frightened and was sure things would have to be closed now. But baby went on sleeping, so did we, and the croup bothered us no more.

When I think of the many, many people, whose lives during the day are spent in close offices or stores, must be spent that way, and whose nights are voluntarily passed in atmosphere just as bad, when the pure air is all around them to be had for the asking only, I almost get the burglar's instinct of opening their doors and windows. My husband makes professional use of our bedroom; uses it for an object lesson. Many a time I have heard him walk refractory patients in there to show them how our babies sleep. They go home and obediently open one window at the top an inch and a half.

S. L. Johns Buys High Rock.

Picturesque "High Rock," the most interesting hill resort of the Pigeon Hills, and a famous York county attraction, has just been purchased by S. L. Johns, of McSherrystown. It is the highest point of the Pigeon Hills and was once owned by President James Buchanan. Sometimes called "Pulpit Rock," this popular observatory is located four miles northeast of Hanover. Its elevation is nearly a thousand feet above sea level.

Although the road leading to "High Rock" is rough and steep, the scenery is romantic and picturesque. The view from this elevation is magnificent and embraces the fertile valley and fine farms of both York and Adams counties. Directly in the foreground is Abbottstown, sixteen miles to the west is Big Round Top on the Gettysburg battlefield, and in an easterly direction can be seen the Cowawago Hills, along the Susquehanna river.

The Pigeon Hills received their name from Joseph Pigeon, the surveyor who outlined Paradise township, and not from the great number of wild pigeons that used to harbor there in the autumn, as is generally supposed. They are a range of the Blue Mountains and are densely wooded with oak and chestnut.

Why He Does It.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to refund the money if it does not cure, said Druggist Buehler to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan."

"The Dr. Howard Co. in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of the specific for half-price, 25c, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store, and I will cheerfully refund their money.

The road is now completed within 1,500 feet of the connection with the Monocacy Valley Railroad, which runs from Catocin to Thurmont, a distance of five miles. The entire road from Frederick to Thurmont will be built and put in operation by the middle of next month. From Thurmont the road will be built to Emmitsburg, a distance of five miles, and from Emmitsburg to Gettysburg, its terminal, distance of ten miles. With the building of the link from Emmitsburg to Gettysburg the Frederick County end of the line from Washington to Gettysburg will be completed.

How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

Mrs. C. W. Culp, living at 423 S. Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "My son suffered from an attack of measles two years ago and from that time on his kidneys were in a disordered condition. He complained of backache and pains in his sides, was unable to straighten after stooping and felt very miserable. His kidneys were also weak and he had considerable trouble from this source. He finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at The People's Drug Store, took them as directed and they gave him quick relief. He is now in better health than before in a long time, and I do not hesitate to recommend them to others."

What Do They Cure?

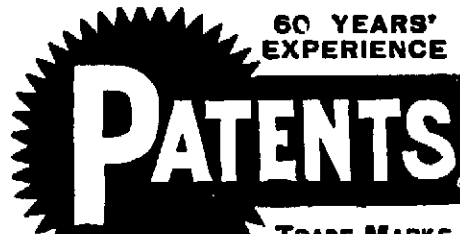

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative of blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or incurable stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures.

"The Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of disease, viz. in peculiar weakness, irregularities and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak women, overworked women, no matter what has caused the breakdown, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formula of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines. The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

COURSE OF THE CAMPAIGN

CAMPAIGN TROUBLES OF THE POLICIES ROOSEVELT.

The Cause of the People as Presented by Mr. Bryan Winning Throughout the Country.

The Democratic candidate for President, Wm. Jennings Bryan, in his speech making tour of the country has been saying some very clever and true things, making decided hits. He has landed hard and straight a number of times. He has been saying the right thing at the right time to the discomfiture of his opponents. While the Republicans leaders have been blundering along

Mr. Taft was injudicious enough on a recent occasion to predict a panic if he is not elected and that his election is a promise of prosperity. Mr. Bryan saw the opening and answered.

Mr. Taft has promised prosperity if he is elected. Yesterday he placed on his prosperity promissory note the endorsement of Theodore Roosevelt, who, when it comes to panics, is a bankrupt.

Since Mr. Taft has gone into the business of predicting panics if he is not elected it is only fair to ask what guarantee he can give of prosperity if he is elected. We had a panic last fall when Mr. Roosevelt was President, although the people were promised immunity from panics in case of Republican success. What reason has Mr. Taft to believe that his anti-panic specific will be more of a success than the present President's? Mr. Grant was elected in 1872 and he was elected by an overwhelming majority and yet we had the panic of 1873. There was no danger then of a gradual return to a revenue basis, but widespread business depression came upon the country.

In view of the panics of 1873 and 1907, how can Mr. Taft be sure that his election will prove a panacea? In 1896 the Republicans forgot the panic of 1893 and charged the panic of 1893 to the Democrats. But they cannot forget the panic of last fall. How can the Republican party shirk responsibility for last fall's panic and, I may ask, how can Mr. Taft shirk responsibility when he was not only in the President's Cabinet but was the member of the Cabinet selected by the President himself to lead the fight this year?

I beg you to decide these questions upon their merits. Examine the positions of the parties. Weigh the arguments and then trust your own judgment. Be not misled by the direful prophecies of a candidate who has convinced himself and now seeks to convince you that in some mysterious ways the country's prosperity depends upon his election.

Taft has doubtless begun to pray that he be saved from his friends, especially his big stick friend Roosevelt. The President does not appreciate that fine sense of decency which should restrain him from taking an active part in a political campaign. Taft is only a kind of a Colonel of the Roosevelt policies with the President as Lieutenant Colonel, ready to make himself the big thing as he did in the Spanish-American. Senator Foraker, of Ohio, was exposed last week for his alliance with the Standard Oil and had to admit the situation. The patched up peace between Taft and Foraker had to be called off. The Republican condition in Ohio was serious enough but Roosevelt could not hold his tongue longer. He not only ripped up Foraker but gave a letter of Taft to the public in which the latter makes plain his differences with Foraker, saying among other things, "I don't care for the Presidency if it has to come by compromise with Senator Foraker or anyone else in a matter of principle. He has opposed the vital policies and principles of the Administration, and in his opposition has seized upon and magnified an important but incidental matter to embarrass the Administration, using in this, without scruple, a blind race prejudice to accomplish his main purpose."

Does any one suppose that Foraker is going to permit himself to be retired without a fight. He is a practical politician and is not built that way. Foraker accepts the situation defiantly, makes it more completely his own deliberate act and then, with the old audacious spirit which has made him for years one of the most picturesque "fighters" in the American political arena, announces that henceforth he is a free lance in the campaign; that he will wage war in Ohio for the Senatorship—fighting only for his own sword—and that incidentally he intends to find time to do some fighting against least—or almost any one else—as occasion serves. All of which means that Ohio may be classed as doubtful.

Mr. Bryan has been making clear the present Republican tendencies and hits the nail square on the head when he says: The present campaign presents another tendency of the Republican party, namely to substitute a Presidential success for the Democratic gain of popular selection. The President felt it his duty to select a Republican nominee, and having reached a conclusion that he ought to select such a nominee, he brought the influence of his great office to bear in behalf of the candidate of his personal choice, and is now using his influence to secure the election of the candidate whom he assisted in nominating.

If Mr. Roosevelt can pick out the Republican candidate this year and then use the prestige of his office and the influence of the army of office holders to elect him, may not Mr. Taft pick out a successor and elect him, and so on from Administration to Administration.

It is no defence of such an interference with the popular will to say that the guilty party means well. Kings have often meant well whenever they have suppressed free speech and representative government, and in aristocracies the few have often meant well when they rode roughshod over the opinions of the multitude.

Our Government rests upon the will of the people, and any interference with the free choice of the people either before nominations or after nominations is contrary to the spirit of our institutions.

The time to correct this abuse and to stop this tendency is now. If this attempt is successful it will be accepted as a precedent for another attempt, and the people having submitted once will be less aroused by repetition of the attempt.

The troubles of the Republican party reveal the many signs of the time, showing that the people are aroused to an appreciation of that live issue, "Shall the People Rule." Troubles in Ohio with Foraker, troubles in Michigan between two candidates for Governor, troubles in New York State because they had to nominate a Governor, against whom the politicians were a unit, and troubles in Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana. In every one of these States the Democrats have never been in a more harmonious and united condition, Johnson in Minnesota, Adia Stevenson in Illinois, Chandler in New York, Kern in Indiana, and Bryan everywhere fighting the battle for the rule of the people.

The fact seems to be everywhere appreciated that while Taft is a very estimable citizen, yet he does not represent the people. He has held offices for years but never as a gift of the people, always appointed and hence built to support Roosevelt policies, rather than policies of the people. The following is the record of W. H. Taft feeding at the public crib by the grace of the appointive power and not by election by the people:

1882—Appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio.
1883—Appointed collector of internal revenue, First District of Ohio.
1885—Appointed county solicitor of Hamilton county, Ohio.
1887—Appointed judge of the Superior Court of Ohio.
1890—Appointed solicitor general of the United States.
1892—Appointed United States Circuit Judge, Sixth District.
1896—Appointed president of United States Philippine Commission.
1898—Appointed first civil governor of the Philippine Islands.
1901—Appointed secretary of war in Roosevelt's cabinet.
1905—Appointed by Theodore Roosevelt as the candidate of the Republican party for president.

JUDGE SWOPE FILES OPINION In the Case Stated Between County and Poor Directors.

A case stated was recently filed and argued between the County and Poor Directors to determine the question of salary of Poor Directors, whether under the old law or the new law.

Judge Swope last Wednesday filed the following opinion in favor of the Poor Directors.

Following, briefly stated, are the facts of this case:

The above plaintiffs were Directors of the Poor of Adams county, and were duly elected to said office as follows: Geo. W. Irvin in November 1904, Noah W. Sell in November 1905, and E. G. Trostle in November 1906.

When elected their compensation was one hundred dollars per annum, and necessary traveling expenses for each day necessarily spent in the discharge of their official duties.

The Act of June 7, 1907, provides: "From and after its passage, the salaries of Directors of the Poor in counties having over 30,000 population and under 50,000 population, shall be three hundred dollars per annum, together with traveling expenses necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties."

The plaintiffs presented their bill to the County Commissioners from Dec. 1, 1906, to June 7, 1907, under the old rule of compensation, and from June 7, 1907, to Dec. 7, 1907, under the Act of June 7, 1907.

The bill the county commissioners refused to pay. The respective claims of the above plaintiffs are as follows:

Noah W. Sell, $258.54
E. G. Trostle, 254.50
Geo. W. Irvin, 97.50

We take judicial notice of the fact that the population of Adams county is over 30,000 and under 50,000.

The compensation of the Directors of the Poor of Adams county was provided for by the 11th Sec. of the Act of March 24, 1817, P. L. 200.

This 11th Sec. of the Act of 1817, was repealed by the Act of April 12, 1887, P. L. 53.

The compensation of Directors of the Poor of Adams county is determined therefore, by general legislation, and the Act of June 7, 1907, applies to them.

This leaves but one question involved in this case stated: Would the payment of these directors, as claimed by them, under the Act of 1907, offend against Sec. 13, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania?

This section of the Constitution provides as follows: "No law shall extend the term of any public officer, or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments, after his election or appointment."

These directors were all elected previous to the Act of June 7, 1907.

If they were public officers or county officers within the intendment of the Constitution, clearly they could not invoke the benefit of the Act of 1907. But we are of the opinion that they are not such officers.

Sec. 1, of Act 14, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides: "County officers shall consist of sheriffs, coronors, prothonotaries, registers of wills, recorder of deeds, commissioners, treasurers, surveyors, auditors or controllers, clerks of the courts, district attorneys, and such others as may from time to time, be established by law."

When the Constitution of 1874 was adopted, the office of director of the poor was an established one in many of the counties of our state, and the failure to mention this office, among the named constitutional county officers, is very significant.

The office of Director of the Poor is not a constitutional but a statutory or legislative office, and hence is not subject to constitutional but legislative control.

Being a legislative office alone, the legislature was left with unrestricted power to prescribe what the duties of the office should be, what the length of the term, what its emoluments, and how it should be filled, without infringing on any constitutional right or legislative duty.

In a legislative office, "The compensation which was allowed at the beginning of an incumbent's term may be diminished or taken wholly away."

We are of opinion the plaintiffs are entitled to compensation as provided by the Act of June 7, 1908, from its date, and as represented in their respective claims.

And now, Sept. 24, 1908, judgment is directed to be entered on this case stated, in favor of the plaintiffs and against the defendant for the sum of six hundred and ten dollars and fifty-four cents ($610.54) with interest from Dec. 3rd, 1907, and costs.

$258.54 of this judgment to be for the use of Noah W. Sell, $254.50 for the use of E. G. Trostle, and $97.50 for the use of Geo. W. Irvin.

S. MCC. SWOPE, Pres. Judge.

Watch Yourself Go By.

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by:

Think of yourself as "he" instead of "I."

Note closely as in other men you note, The bag-kneed trousers and the seedy coat.

Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,

And strive to make your estimate ring true.

Confront yourself and look you in the eye,

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

Interpret all your motives just as though

You looked on one whose aims you did not know.

Let undisguised contempt surge through you where

You see you shirk, O commonest of men!

Despite your cowardice; condemn whatever

You note of falseness in you anywhere.

Defend not one defect that shames your eye,

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

And then with eyes, unveiled to what you leathe—

To smite that with sweet charity you'd clothe—

Back to yourself-walled tenement you'll go

With tolerance for all who dwell below.

The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink,

Love's chain grow stronger by one mighty link—

When you with "he" as substitute for "I."

Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

"The Philadelphia Record" Actively Supports Bryan

A Presidential contest that will undoubtedly be waged with unrelenting vigor on both sides of the line dividing the great national parties is now in full swing. Politics will be the principal topic of discussion wherever men congregate until the claims of the rival candidates shall be settled in the ballot-box in November. It goes without saying that accurate information of all the important moves on the campaign chess-board will be indispensable to every wide-awake voter.

Democrats turn naturally to "The Philadelphia Record" for such information. It is the only Democratic newspaper in Philadelphia recognized the country over as one of the leading exponents of Democratic opinion on this edge of the Continent. It is fair, though partisan; it chronicles the telling blow, no matter who is hit. Suppression and misrepresentation are weapons that have no place in its armory. "Square deal" Democrats and Republicans will find the daily budget of "The Record" essential to an intelligent understanding of the progress of a lively Presidential canvass.

No newspaper ever achieved popularity on the strength of its political attitude alone. "The Philadelphia Record" is no exception to the rule. It is lifted above the common level by many distinctive features that appeal to the varied interests of every member of the household. It prints the news—all the news—in a concise, brisk form that has come to be known, even among its contemporaries, as "Record" style. A proper sense of perspective dictates its thorough presentation of happenings in its own immediate field—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland. Its editorial treatment of the questions of the day is at once well balanced and aggressive.

"The Philadelphia Record" exploits no facts and rides no hobbies, but it is pre-eminent in its special departments. It is the recognized authority in the field of sports and the turf. Farmers and shipwreckers swear by its marked reports, which are always complete, accurate and wholly reliable. To the practical man its columns of popularized science are entertaining and helpful; the practical woman finds the matters that lie nearest to her heart treated amply—and sanely—in a department devoted to the home, dress and the world of feminine achievement. There is a corner in "The Record" for boys and girls; a weekly column of condensed, up-to-date information for the farmer; a daily bouquet of breezy anecdotes—"The Reporter's Notebook"—so good that they are clipped and reprinted by newspaper editors throughout the country.

If you want a clean newspaper, worthy to occupy an honored place in the home circle—

If you want a live newspaper without a streak of yellow in its make-up—

If you want a valuable Democratic newspaper that will keep you thoroughly posted on every phase of a stirring national campaign—

If you want a family newspaper the profit and pleasure of reading which will be shared by others, no matter how diverse their tastes and inclinations—

If you want "The Philadelphia Record," it is the only paper that fills the bill.

"The Philadelphia Record" will be mailed to your address at the following rates:

Daily (including Sunday), per year, $4.50
Every week day, per year, $3.00
Sunday Record, per year, $1.50

The Best Paris Styles Are Sewn Into These Garments Stitch by Stitch

It cost $40,000 to learn the knack of getting Wooltex styles into women's garments. $40,000 spent in searching out the style secrets of the master-tailors of Paris. $40,000 paid out that you might have Parisian styles at American prices. And here they are—within your easy reach—priced the same as ordinary garments that lack their style, their beauty, their finish, their exclusiveness.

The best of these Wooltex garments is the way they wear. There is no cotton, no adulteration in them. Every thread is pure wool. This standard of cloth can be obtained in no other garments but Wooltex, and the style is there to stay. It is put there by skilful needle-work—stitch by stitch. Beside the two styles shown here you will find suits, skirts and coats in pleasing variety—garments for young and old, including

- Walking suits in hard finish, fancy suitings, diagonals and broadcloths—some with sheath skirts—many with big buttons.
- Beauclève coats, modified Directoire style—high waist line in back—slashed sides—bias back, a new and pleasing effect.
- Artistic evening wraps of broadcloth in pastel colors, with novel effects in trimmings—some with cretonne trimmings, hand-tinted in water color.
- Long coat suits—high waist lines—trimming cleverly arranged to add to height and increase slenderness—novel sleeve effects and enormous self-covered buttons.
- Marchioness and Belmore coats—the standard coats, but made better than the standard way. In material, in style, in workmanship, these coats can not be improved.
- Separate skirts which button down to the hem—skirts with side plackets—skirts with front plackets—skirts with habit backs—many in modified Directoire style, opening at one side over pleats.
- And suits, coats and skirts in almost endless variety, all snappy Wooltex styles—all durable Wooltex materials—garments that delight the eye and hold their attractiveness till the very end.

A beautiful evening wrap of broadcloth in pastel shades edged with black satin bands and buttons—slashed sides—cretonne collar braided in gold. This evening wrap expresses the best of this season's Paris styles, and is fashioned almost exactly after an expensive imported Parisian model.

Every Wooltex Garment is guaranteed by the makers for two full seasons of satisfactory wear.

Please ask for the Wooltex Style Book. From it you will get the newest and best exclusive fashion pointers. Better still, come in and see the suits themselves, see the styles, see the materials, see the art in designing, see the workmanship.

Surely you will want to get the benefit of the best Paris styles when they are lastingly sewn into such serviceable suits as these, and placed within your easy reach at such moderate prices.
